

ANJALI SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

JULY 2025

The last focused virtual session of SEP for 2024-25 batch of Anjali Scholars was conducted to enhance the academic capabilities of scholarship students.

The session, held on 27th July at 3:30 PM, covered Geo-Politics, a vital subject for students aspiring to understand global affairs, international relations, and policy-making. It was conducted by Governing Body member Sambit Kumar Das, a visually impaired banker with immense interest in international politics. He provided insights into the dynamics of geopolitical strategies, global power structures, and their implications on national and international policies. A total of twenty-three students attended the session virtually and engaged in this insightful and interactive learning experience.

This initiative continues to reaffirm our objective of nurturing well-rounded individuals by complementing academic acumen with global happenings and international updates.
